5. 2019 Projects

List of any new projects, or include changes to projects or initiatives set forth by the board/commission in 2019:

2019 List of Significant Accomplishments for Richmond Public Library (RPL):

1. Fine Free Youth Library Card: Effective National Library Week, April 12, 2019, all youth under 18 years of age are able to borrow library books and materials without incurring fines. Fines are a product of last century that are not an effective measure to encourage library use. By eliminating fines for children, we have removed a barrier to library access and may better promote literacy. In Richmond fines disproportionately impact low income residents and children. They are a form of social inequity that we are trying to remove completely.

2. Public Service Hours: Increased at the following locations:
   a. Seven days a week library service is available at Broad Rock, Ginter Park, and the Main Library.
   b. Sunday's public service 1:00 PM – 5:00 PM were restored to the Main Library and added in north side at Ginter Park. 1989 was the last year that the Main Library was open on a Sunday.

3. Innovation Lab and Main Library Updates: First floor of the Main Library was rearranged and space was created specifically for young adults and innovation. All ages may interact, hands-on with technology, and electronic resources that are not readily available. We have a 3D printer, Oculis GO virtual reality goggles, Lego robots, sewing machines, Chrome books, Cricuts that patrons may use to learn and make in the Library.

4. Read-Up Richmond: Read-up Richmond is a new event that promotes literacy by highlighting notable and inspiring authors. In October Jesmyn Ward, two time National Book Award winner, Macarthur Fellow, presented with Alex Kotlowitz to review and discuss her inspirational work. The goal is to bring authors who are focused on topics of the human condition and social challenges.

5. VCU/RPL Common Book Partnership Evicted: In 2019 VCU invited RPL to participate in the fall Common Book Program. All incoming students are required to read the same title. This year the author was Matt Desmond and the book was Evicted. Matt Desmond visited RPL for a discussion with community influencers on this topic. In January and February of 2020, the conversation will continue with and exhibit that will further highlight this important community problem.

6. RVA Reads Returns: to RPL to support early literacy. Early childhood literacy is a fundamental mission goal of Richmond Public Library. We provide books to children 5 and under through a partnership with Richmond Public Schools (RPS) and child care providers in the City. Over 1,000 pre-school children are having new books read and delivered to them monthly through this program.

7. RPL in partnership with James River Association, DPU: were awarded a DEQ 219 grant to educate citizens in storm water mitigation. This is a $120,000 grant to begin in 2019.

8. Comcast Education Channel 99: moving to the Library. Comcast was shutting down the service in 2018 and offered it to the Library to allow citizens to have a platform to produce television shows and call in public action shows to promote, educate, and raise awareness.

9. 60th Anniversary of the Friends of the Library was celebrated in November.

Include any legislation or policy recommendations that are included in a board/commissions “Duties and Function” portion of your charter/by-laws:

2. Open and fair access to eBooks and electronic information.
3. Full funding of state aid to library from the State of Virginia. The state has not fully funded library need since 2001.
